

Overall, Canada's second action plan was stronger than the first as work has been done to facilitate people's ability to find government information. However, a lot remains to be undertaken, particularly when it comes to improving information flow, usability and engagement.

Commitment Performance

Content

* midterm data
 ** for most recent IRM data

Consultation Process

Key Recommendations

- ✓ Improve meaningful public engagement with a permanent dialogue mechanism
- ✓ Reform and improve implementation of the access to information Act
- ✓ Ensure proper resources to support implementing agencies

