I. Introduction

This is an assessment of the Philippines' 3rd Open Government Partnership (OGP) Action Plan, which was crafted under the Aquino Administration. This plan covers the period from July 2015 to June 2017 and contains the specific commitments and targets to be attained by Government during this period.

While the Duterte Administration assumed power on June 30, 2016, the new government commits to pursue the targets made under this Action Plan and further expand the principles of Open Government in the other areas of governance.

This assessment focuses on the process undertaken in crafting the 3rd Action Plan and identifies challenges that need to be addressed when the next action plan is crafted.

II. Crafting the National Action Plan

A. Consultations during National Action Plan Development

One of the weaknesses of the Philippine OGP Action Plan cited in the last Independent Reporting Mechanism (IRM) report is that the Action Plan was composed primarily of programs and commitments from existing government initiatives. Hence, it opined that the role of civil society in crafting the plan could be greatly enhanced. As a response, the PH-OGP Steering Committee decided that the 3rd Philippine Country Action Plan would be co-created, in line with OGP best practices.

The PH-OGP Steering Committee is a multi-sectoral group composed of three representatives from national government, one representative from local government, three representatives from civil society, and two representatives from business groups. It oversees the implementation of OGP commitments as well as the crafting of OGP Action Plans. Starting 2015, the PH-OGP Steering Committee has been conducting regular quarterly meetings.

The crafting of the 3rd Action Plan was a year-long process. It began with the consultation workshops to assess the progress of the 2nd Action Plan. For the first time, a nationwide consultation involving civil society, academe, local business groups, media and development partners was convened. This 1st round nationwide consultation was supported by the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) Facilitating Public Investment (FPI) Project.

Inputs received from these consultations were processed by the civil society members of the PH-OGP Steering Committee and by the PH-OGP Secretariat, and reviewed by the Steering Committee. The consolidated output was then subjected to another round of consultations with civil society from May to June 2015. The emerging draft Action Plan was also published online for public feedback. (See Annex A for the complete list of consultation activities.)

On the side of Government, only a few targeted agencies - based on the inputs from the consultations and the Steering Committee - were asked to submit programs and commitments for the new Action Plan. This process led to a draft Action Plan which initially had 9 program commitments. But after discussions with civil society, other stakeholders and the PH-OGP Steering Committee, the nine (9) commitments were expanded to 12. All these commitments by Government were fully supported by the heads of the agencies responsible for the programs.

Documents regarding these consultations can be viewed in the Governance Cluster Website, under the Open Government Partnership tab. (<http://www.gov.ph/governance/resources>)

Compliance with OGP Requirements for Consultation

Availability of timeline: The timeline for crafting the OGP Action Plan was presented and discussed during the Good Governance Dialogues. While the timeline was also uploaded in the Governance Cluster website, it was not widely disseminated outside the Dialogues and was not published online.

Adequate notice: Invitations to the consultations were sent two weeks before the activities.

Awareness raising: The Dialogues and consultation workshops also intended to raise awareness on OGP. For many of the participants in these activities, it was the first time for them to become aware of the Open Government Partnership.

Multiple channels: Face-to-face consultations with various sectors and online consultations were conducted. Email also provided an efficient platform to coordinate with government and non-government commitment holders. However, the online consultations through the Governance Cluster website were not effective as only a few comments were received online, mostly from the staff of institutions leading the implementation of the OGP commitments.

Breadth of consultation: There was a significant improvement in the number of organizations and sectors consulted in crafting the 3rd Action Plan. For the first time, those from outside Metro Manila were consulted. Two rounds of regional consultations, attended by representatives from the national and local government, civil society, private sector, and academe, were conducted in crafting this Action Plan. In addition, a national consultation with university students and a dialogue with the business sector were conducted.

After consolidating inputs from the first round of consultations, the civil society members of the PH-OGP Steering Committee spearheaded a second round of consultations which were participated in by a mix of old and new OGP stakeholders from civil society. With the assistance of the OGP Support Unit, the draft Action Plan commitments were also consulted with the OGP Working Groups from the international community.

Documentation and feedback: Outputs from the consultations were properly documented and posted in the Governance Cluster website. The recommendations from the OGP stakeholders from the first round of dialogues were sent to relevant government agencies for consideration. Following this, agencies revised their commitment forms and resubmitted them to the Secretariat. During the second round of consultations, the consolidated output from the first round of consultations was presented to and revisited by the civil society stakeholders. After this second cycle of consultations, the draft 2015-2017 Action Plan was developed. The draft Plan was then routed to the different OGP Working Groups for comments through the assistance of the OGP Support Unit. Again, feedback from the members of the OGP Working Groups were relayed to lead implementing agencies and non-government commitment holders for consideration. After another round of revisions, the complete draft of the Plan was posted online on August 12, 2015. No public feedback was received during the two-week period for accepting comments.. Hence, the PH-OGP Plan was launched and presented to the different sectors during a Good Governance event at SMX, Mall of Asia, on August 31, 2015.

New Features of the OGP Action Plan

This is the first co-created Philippine OGP Country Action Plan. As such, there was a significant difference in the process of crafting this Action Plan as described above compared to previous ones. The improvements in the process can be summarized as:

- Nationwide consultation of civil society and other sectors;
- Incorporation of new commitments proposed by those outside of government; and
- Incorporation of CSO commitments alongside government commitments.

There were 4 new commitments included under this Action Plan, 2 of which were proposed by civil society (Public and Private High Level Dialogues and the Integrity Initiative). More noteworthy, a unique feature of this Action Plan, (possibly a first in OGP), is the incorporation of counterpart civil society commitments for several of the initiatives in the Action Plan. Examples of such commitments include the publication of studies and/or visualization of data using information published by government, conduct of civil society outreach activities, and dialogues with legislators on OGP Commitments.

Constraints and Challenges

Political transition. While the Steering Committee would have wanted to take on more new initiatives, it was cognizant of the fact that the timeframe for the new Action Plan would cover the national election of a new President and the change to a new government. Elections were held in May 2016 and a new government would assume power on June 30, 2016. Thus, the Steering Committee adopted a conservative stance in including new programs in the Action Plan, focusing more on helping ensure that on-going commitments are continued by the next government. There was a consensus that the OGP process could provide strategic support in sustaining reform initiatives from one government to the next.

Quality of inputs. There is a need to improve the consultation process as many of the inputs obtained during the consultations were either too broad or too general. It was left to the members of the Steering Committee to process the input and find ways to incorporate them in the Action Plan. But it should be noted that the quality of inputs from the non-government members of the Steering Committee and their subsequent incorporation into the Action Plan were considered satisfactory by the parties involved.

Consulting the general public. The Steering Committee is still grappling with the issue of consulting the general public and attracting its attention. The online consultation platform has been ineffective and this could be attributed to the lack of a social media strategy. This is of particular importance if the OGP Action Plan and the commitments it contains is to be made more relevant to a broader segment of society.

B. Consultations during implementation

Through the quarterly Steering Committee meetings, civil society was kept abreast on the progress of OGP Commitments. (See Annex A for the calendar of Steering Committee meetings) During these meetings, an update on the status of commitments was presented. Areas of concern are identified and the Secretariat is tasked to make the necessary interventions by the Steering Committee. Some agencies responsible for implementing OGP Commitments are also invited to these meetings upon the request of any Steering Committee member.

In October 2015, it was decided by the Steering Committee that the Chair of the meeting will alternate between government and civil society. However, the civil society chair of the new Steering Committee is still to be identified as the election of the new representatives was just concluded in June 2016. The PH-OGP Steering Committee has been broadened to include representatives from the Public Sector Labor Unions, the Academe and the Legislature. The composition of the new and old Steering Committee is provided in Annex B of this report.

In addition to the Steering Committee meetings, quarterly workshop assessments involving a broader set of organizations were also conducted. After the launch of the OGP Action Plan in August 2015, the following activities have been conducted to update and solicit feedback from various stakeholders on the progress of the Action Plan:

- October 21, 2015: Quarterly Consultation Workshop
- March 3-5, 2015: PH-OGP National Summit
- CSO Consultations
  - Davao Leg: June 16-17, 2016
  - Cebu Leg: July 12-13, 2016
  - Pampanga Leg: August 2-3, 2016
  - Manila Leg: August 11-12, 2016

Aside from these activities, the Governance Cluster website also provides a quarterly update on the status of the OGP commitments. The status can be viewed here: <http://www.gov.ph/governance/status-of-initiatives>. It is possible to provide feedback and comments through this website.

PH-OGP Steering Committee members, particularly those from civil society, are co-organizers of these activities. They are primarily responsible in leading several sessions and identifying participants and to be invited in these events.

C. Consultation for the Self-Assessment Report

The drafting of the self-assessment report started in July 2016. The drafting process and timeline was presented and finalized during the PH-OGP Steering Committee last April 2016. The Secretariat at DBM spearheaded the crafting of the report and the draft were circulated to the Steering Committee members for comments and dissemination to their own networks. It was also sent to implementing institutions of the PH-OGP Commitments for additional inputs and validation of data on the progress of their own programs. The draft document was also be posted on the Governance Cluster website and social media accounts managed by the Secretariat for more than two weeks from September 13-29, 2016 for public feedback. The comments from the Steering Committee and members of their networks, implementing agencies and civil society organizations of the OGP Commitments, and inputs submitted online were considered in revising the draft assessment report. The consolidated comments and corresponding actions taken are incorporated in the final version of the document which is now posted on the Governance Cluster website.

III. IRM Recommendations

A report is published by the Independent Reporting Mechanism to provide an external evaluation of the progress attained in a country's action plan. The IRM report has always been a valuable tool in helping improve how the Philippine Action Plan is crafted and implemented. However, the government was only able to receive a copy of the draft IRM report after it had finalized its 3rd Country Action Plan. Nevertheless, the OGP Support Unit and Joseph Foti of the IRM did provide useful inputs to the draft Action Plan.

While the recommendations were formally received after the draft action plan was finalized, the PH-OGP Steering Committee was still able to undertake improvements that address some of the concerns raised in the IRM report. The table below lists the IRM recommendation and any action taken by the Steering Committee.

Recommendation 1:

Engage Senate and House of Representative committees to promote awareness of their role in enacting legislative commitments and ensure funding to support institutionalizing OGP commitments

Action Taken:

Congress was not engaged in the crafting of the 3rd Action Plan. However, the Steering Committee has decided to include representatives from the Senate and the House of Representatives in the Steering Committee. This will strengthen OGP engagement with various committees can eventually be strengthened through the legislative representatives in the Steering Committee.

The PH-OGP Secretariat has requested the leadership of both the House of Representatives and the Senate to identify their representative to the Steering Committee last September 2016. Congress is still in the process of identifying their representatives.

Recommendation 2:

Involve key stakeholders from the bureaucracy, beyond the current members of the OGP Secretariat in crafting and implementing commitments to ensure continuation of the OGP process beyond the May 2016 national elections

Action Taken:

The entire Steering Committee now takes a more pro-active role in crafting the 3rd Country Action Plan. Members of the Steering Committee, including career senior officials from major departments, provided substantial inputs to the Action Plan.

In addition, through the regular monitoring mechanism and quarterly assessment workshops conducted by the Steering Committee, the awareness and appreciation of bureaucrats involved in implementing OGP commitments has been raised.

Recommendation 3:

Organize a regular (not ad-hoc) secretariat for the Philippine OGP Steering Committee. This should include representatives from the major implementing agencies, which will provide more opportunities for representation by other CSOs

Action Taken:

In the last few months of the previous administration, the Secretariat of the PH-OGP Steering Committee was transferred to a regular bureau in the Department of Budget and Management. The new Budget and Management Secretary has expressed his commitment to continue supporting OGP. He has assigned an Undersecretary to oversee OGP and has retained staff hired during the previous administration to continue providing staff support as Secretariat to the PH-OGP Steering Committee.

Recommendation 4:

Beyond the administrative reforms instituted by the executive branch, include the Congress as a major stakeholder in pushing legislation to ensure formal and institutionalized framework in law for the implementation of OGP commitments across political administrations. Civil society could also have stronger advocacy for the passage of the Freedom of Information Bill and, in general, play a more proactive role in developing commitments for the next OGP action plan.

Action Taken:

On the role of civil society: it had a stronger role in crafting the 3rd OGP Action Plan. The CSO consultations were primarily organized and led by the civil society members of the Steering Committee, with the Secretariat only providing a supporting role. As previously mentioned in this report, the 3rd Action Plan also contains commitments proposed by government and counterpart commitments from civil society.

Input on role of Congress is addressed in Recommendation 2 above.

Recommendation 5:

Review and recommit to improve the Philippines' performance vis-a-vis the eligibility criteria of the OGP - notably disclosure of asset records across all branches of the government (House of Representatives and Supreme Court and judiciary not fully compliant with disclosure laws) - and enact legislation to implement the constitutional guarantees of the citizens' right to access to information.

Action Taken:

While there is no disagreement on the importance of the disclosure of asset records of government officials, this was not identified as a priority at this point by civil society in any of the consultations or Steering Committee meetings.

However, while not included in the Action Plan, there is an on-going initiative being implemented by the Office of the Ombudsman on the development of an IT-based system for the filing and disclosure of Statements of Assets, Liabilities, and Net Worth (SALN) of government employees.

The 16th Congress failed to enact a Freedom of Information (FOI) Law. Several versions of the FOI Bill have now been refiled in both upper and lower house of the 17th Congress.

Within a month after his assumption of office, President Rodrigo Duterte issued Executive Order No. 02, s. 2016, "Operationalizing in the Executive Branch the People's Constitutional Right to Information". Currently, the Presidential Communications Office (PCO) is leading the development of the Freedom of Information Manual and Implementing Rules and Regulations of the EO on FOI for the guidance of national agencies and government corporations.

IV. Implementing of National Action Plan Commitments

The 3rd PH-OGP Action Plan contains 12 commitments implemented through 13 national government programs. Eight of these are continuing initiatives from the 2nd Action Plan while 4 are new commitments. The summary of completion is found in Table 4 below. More details on the progress of each commitment are provided in Annex C.

V. Peer Exchange and Learning

In February 2016, the PH-OGP Secretariat co-organized with the Ateneo School of Government a Learning Event for international delegates from Making All Voices Count (MAVC)-supported countries. The objective of the activity was to share with the participants the Philippine OGP Experience on the use of technology and transformative governance. As part of the program, Former Undersecretary Richard Moya provided them an overview of the Philippine Open Government Partnership and its activities. Representatives from implementing agencies of selected OGP initiatives such as Open Data, Bottom-up Budgeting, and Citizen Participatory Audit were also there to present and demonstrate how PH-OGP commitments were leveraging technology to improve and strengthen implementation of its programs. The participants also visited the Civil Service Commission for a presentation and a guided tour on the Integrated Anti-Red Tape Program's Contact Center ng Bayan, the central public feedback mechanism of the Philippine government.

VI. Conclusion and Next Steps

A. Lessons Learned

Building on the experiences in crafting two previous plans, the process for crafting the Philippines' 3rd OGP Action Plan was significantly improved. Not only were more stakeholders involved in the process, but civil society and other non-government stakeholders had a stronger voice in finalizing the Action Plan. Some of the lessons we've learned in this cycle include:

1. Importance of a strong government secretariat fully supported by key senior government officials. The PH-OGP Secretariat continues to serve a critical role in bridging civil society with other government agencies. In crafting the 3rd Action Plan, two new OGP commitments were proposed by civil society towards the latter part of the planning process. The Secretariat, with the support of the OGP lead minister, was able to quickly bring to the attention of the concerned Department Secretary these proposed new OGP commitments. Following meetings were arranged and the commitments were finalized in less than two months. The effectiveness of the Secretariat is dependent on the support of a cabinet minister and their influence over other agencies.
2. Leveraging international recognition to strengthen local political and bureaucratic support. Several OGP Commitments of the Philippine government have been recognized by the international community such as the Citizen Participatory Audit, which was given the OGP Bright Spots Award in the OGP Summit in 2013. Receiving such awards has strengthened both political and bureaucratic support for particular OGP commitments.
3. Difficulty in effectively managing broad consultations. It was difficult to manage the broad consultations undertaken in crafting this action plan. While many were consulted, most of the processes undertaken did not lead to substantial amendments or improvements to the OGP Action Plan. The PH-OGP Steering Committee needs to rethink its strategy and mechanisms for consultations in order to make the process more effective.

- 4. Limited resources of the civil society to implement its commitments under the action plan. Some CSOs have voiced out that the achievement of their targeted milestones under the 3rd PH-OGP Action Plan is constrained by their respective resources. Alternative means of resource mobilization and funding through and by the civil society stakeholders of PH-OGP to help meet their commitments should be looked into.

- 5. Need to engage beyond civil society and reach out to citizen directly. The focus of the Philippines OGP plan has been evolving. The first action plan had focused on initiatives that government had wanted to implement. The process then evolved into one giving more importance to issues that the civil society were concerned about. This led to the co-creation of the 3rd Action Plan. However, the Plan is still perceived to be less relevant by regular citizens as it tackles issues that are often far from the day to day concerns of the general public – issues such as traffic and poor service delivery. There is a need to evaluate how the general public and their immediate concerns can become part of the OGP process.

B. Next Steps

With the Duterte administration having only assumed office on June 30, 2016, the Government is still in the midst of transition activities. The PH-OGP Steering Committee has yet to reconvene and the government representatives from the existing and planned new members will have to be reconfirmed. New members from the Senate and the House of Representatives have been invited but will also have to be identified by their respective leadership. On the side of non-government members of the PH-OGP Steering Committee, a co-chair will have to be elected. Currently, the non-government members have initiated to set-up a non-government secretariat to support the current PH-OGP secretariat lodged in the Department of Budget and Management.

The process for crafting the next action plan will have to be initiated during the last quarter of 2016, to ensure that there is enough time to address the weaknesses and challenges experienced in the last cycle of crafting the action plan.

C. Conclusion

The new administration under President Rodrigo Duterte remains committed to expand, deepen, and institutionalize participative governance reform initiatives. Hence, part of this commitment will rely on the implementation and sustainability of the PH-OGP National Action Plan.

To illustrate, related OGP efforts from July to September 2016 have occurred under the auspices of the Duterte administration:

- Executive Order No. 02, s. 2016, which operationalizes in the executive branch the people's constitutional right to information was issued last July 24, 2016, just within a month after the official assumption of duty of President Duterte. This supports the country's commitment to pass an FOI law. Several versions of the bill have also now been refiled in the 17th Congress.
- Hotline number 8888, a new national public feedback mechanism on government services, was launched in August 2016. This supports the Philippines' OGP commitment to improve public service delivery through an effective feedback and monitoring mechanism under the Integrated Anti-Red Tape Program.
- The 10-point socio-economic agenda of the President has put front and center the improvement of the ease of doing business in the country, which is also one of the Philippines' OGP commitments. During his oath-taking ceremony, President Duterte directed all front line public agencies, including LGUs to cut the processing/waiting time for the delivery of services to the public and to automate operations if needed.

Moving forward, the Philippines aims to develop a new PH-OGP Action Plan that is in line with the reform and partnership for change agenda of the new government. The new action plan cycle aims to deepen the consultation process further, and especially engage the legislature to have a more proactive role in PH-OGP. With the help of local government units and civil society, another goal is to strengthen subnational implementation and promotion of relevant PH-OGP commitments. The direct engagement of the Filipino citizens in crafting the plan, through crowdsourcing strategies, is also being eyed.

The OGP platform is seen by the Duterte administration positively as it promotes values that resonate greatly with the leadership's clean, open, and participatory governance platform. Being one of the founding countries of this movement, the Philippine government continues its support to the activities and advocacies of OGP. The past five years of being an OGP member country has made the Philippines a benchmark for transparency, accountability, and citizen engagement best practices. In the next six years, this momentum will continue as the OGP stakeholders from government and civil society strengthen the push for good governance and sustain mutual efforts towards strong Open Government Partnerships.

Brief Description of Commitment	The commitment is to proactively release government data in open formats and generate an ecosystem for its use and reuse by the public.
OGP challenge addressed by the commitment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Improving Public Services</li> <li>• Increasing Public Integrity</li> </ul>
Relevance:	Launched in January 16, 2014 during the Good Governance Summit, Open Data Philippines is the Philippine Government's program to proactively release public sector datasets and generate an ecosystem for its use and reuse by the public. Open Data Philippines aims to institutionalize good governance by making government data available to the public. This involves collating datasets from different government agencies, cleaning them for better understandability, and uploading them to a website in open formats. The idea is that once all datasets become available, citizens will be able to verify for themselves key government transactions and track the movement of crucial resources. The program's innovative take on the public's right to information is the supply of datasets in open and machine-readable formats and the development of data.gov.ph, the centralized repository for these datasets. The program is anchored on the following key result areas: access to public sector information, data-driven governance, public engagement, and practical innovation. Open Data Philippines is not just a website, but a movement and a big part of the movement is citizen engagement. ODP regularly conducts capacity-building activities such as trainings, boot camps, consultations and developer competitions or hackathons for government agencies, civil society, academe and the private sector.

Ambition :	The intended result is the proactive release of government data in open formats and an ecosystem around use and re-use of data.

	CSOs, private sector, working groups, multilaterals	Chamber of Mines of the Philippines, Petroleum Association of the Philippines, Bantay Kita
Status quo or problem/issue to be addressed	The 1st and 2nd EITI Country Reports were submitted to the EITI International Board in December 2014 and 2015 respectively. Both reports are available in the EITI website (www.ph-eiti.org). Executive Order No. 147 was signed in November 2013 creating the Philippine EITI. Preliminary discussions on its institutionalization through legislation have been made in Congress and Senate in 2014.
Main Objective	Improved transparency and accountability in the extractive industry to improve governance of the extractive sector. Specifically, the five Multi-stakeholder Group (MSG) determined objectives for EITI implementation in the Philippines are as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Show direct and indirect contribution of extractives to the economy (through EITI process)</li> <li>• Improve public understanding of the management of natural resources and availability of data</li> <li>• Strengthen national resource management / strengthen government systems</li> <li>• Create opportunities for dialogue and constructive engagement in natural resource management in order to build trust and reduce conflict among stakeholders</li> <li>• Pursue and strengthen the extractive sector's contribution to sustainable development</li> </ul>
Brief Description of Commitment	The Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative (EITI) is an international multi-stakeholder initiative that seeks to establish a global standard for transparency in the revenues collected by governments from extractive industries such as mining, oil and gas. Through Executive Order (EO) No.

	79 on Institutionalizing and Implementing Reforms in the Philippine Mining Sector, the government expressed its commitment to implement EITI. A multi-stakeholder group composed of civil society, business, and government was formed to implement, monitor and evaluate EITI implementation in the Philippines. The government is composed of representatives from the Department of Finance, Department of Energy, Department of Environment and Natural Resources-MGB, Department of Interior and Local Government, and the Union of Local Authorities of the Philippines (ULAP). The civil society is represented by Bantay Kita-Publish What You Pay Philippines, while the industries are represented by the Chamber of Mines of the Philippines, Petroleum Association of the Philippines, and an elected representative from non-chamber members. Through the production and publication of annual country report, revenues collected by government and paid by Extractive companies are compared and reconciled to see if they tally. In the process, gaps are identified by the report and recommendations are formulated by stakeholders to address such gaps. Beyond producing a report and promoting fiscal transparency, PH-EITI aims to improve governance of the extractive sector by making information accessible and enabling stakeholders to have an evidence-based approach to policy making.
OGP challenge addressed by the commitment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Increasing Public Integrity,</li> <li>• Increasing Corporate Accountability</li> <li>• More Effectively Managing Public Resources</li> </ul>
Relevance:	The EITI promotes access to information, transparency and accountability in the extractive sector through disclosure and publication of payments made by mining, oil, gas and other extractive companies. The annual EITI report informs the public on how much the extractive industry contributes to the economy, and how the government spends such revenues for the welfare of citizens. EITI’s multi stakeholder approach also provides a platform for discussion of issues relevant to the governance of the extractive sector, thereby increasing civic participation. Aside from producing information on extractive sector revenues, EITI also promotes transparency across the extractive industry value chain, including information on the licensing process, social development programs at the local level, and processes involving Indigenous Peoples.
Ambition :	EITI aims to ensure transparency across the extractive industry value chain and foster civil society’s meaningful participation in the governance of natural resources. The disclosure of information through the EITI process enables the broader public to evaluate the extractive sector by providing a mechanism by which local communities are able to openly scrutinize the collection and spending of revenues collected by the government from the extraction of natural resources. EITI also enables civil society to assess gaps in existing government systems and provide data - driven recommendations to policy makers.

Utilization of EITI data: conduct of 20 capacity building activities; publication of 20 reports analyzing EITI data.
Description of the Results			DOF Commitments The 2nd PH-EITI Country Report was submitted to the International EITI Secretariat on December 2015. The report was published and launched in February 2016. Following the gaps identified in the EITI process, the Mining Industry Coordinating Council (MICC) required National Government Agencies to submit and implement action plans taking off from the recommendations of the Multi-Stakeholder Group (MSG). Several reforms were adopted as a result of this requirement. Currently, PH-EITI is preparing to submit the 3rd PH-EITI Country Report by December 2016.

Compared to the 1st EITI Report, the 2nd report saw increased scope by including sectors such as large scale non-metallic mining and small scale mining in the contextual information. The Report can be downloaded from the Philippine's EITI website: www.ph-eiti.org.

Initially, the PH-EITI validation process was set in 2016, however, per the new timeline issued by the EITI International Secretariat, the validation process was re-scheduled to January 2017. This, in turn, moves the timeline for achieving the commitment of Philippines on being validated as an EITI-compliant country from end of 2016 to 2017.

Other activities conducted as part of the preparation and outreach for the report are as follows:

1. Multi-stakeholder Group (MSG) meetings every other month
2. Creation and launching of an EITI portal for contracts and maps (in collaboration with the Open Data Philippines team)
3. Online reporting tool for LGUs in partnership with the Bureau of Local Government Finance and Department of Interior and Local Government
4. LGU Roadshows conducted in Davao, Cebu, Baguio, Palawan, Butuan and Manila to serve as platforms communicate findings of the EITI reports and to discuss issues on transparency and accountability of the extractive sector
5. MSG and Secretariat participated in the EITI Global Conference
6. PH-EITI was awarded the EITI International Chair Award for impactful implementation of EITI during the Global Conference in Lima, Peru
7. Press releases and PH-EITI information materials disseminated online in the 2016 National and Global Conference in Peru.
8. Technical Working Group on the draft EITI law convened

Status quo or problem/issue to be addressed	A weak public finance management system leads to the inefficient and ineffective use of public funds. This results to unresponsive government projects that constrain the achievement of national development goals and outcomes.
Main Objective	The main objective of CPA is to strengthen and sustain the engagement of citizens and COA in participatory audits. The Phase II of the CPA program intends to scale-up the implementation of CPA nationwide. This will be done through the roll out of participatory audit of farm-to-market roads in all regions of the country and institutionalization of this process.
Brief Description of Commitment	COA conducts performance audits with civil society to help determine whether public funds are efficiently allocated and properly expended.
OGP challenge addressed by the commitment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Improving Public Services</li> <li>• Increasing Public Integrity</li> <li>• More Effectively Managing Public Resources</li> </ul>
Relevance:	Transparency – by including citizens as part of the public audit process, COA systems and processes are made transparent by giving citizen partners the same access to documents as state auditors. Audit reports are also widely disseminated through the COA website (www.coa.gov.ph) and the i-kwenta website (www.i-kwenta.com). Accountability – Putting in place the CPA Operational Guidelines provides a clear accountability system for both COA and its citizen partners. As part of the horizontal accountability system, COA (and its citizen partners) can check abuses by other public institutions and branches of government, particularly in determining whether public funds have been efficiently allocated and properly expended. Participation – Under CPA, several avenues for citizen participation

	are introduced. Oftentimes, citizen partners have the ability to influence the tools used during data gathering activities. During the audit report writing, both COA and its citizen partners work on it together, thereby ensuring that the recommendations identified in the audit report include those of the citizens and state auditors. Technology and Innovation - The Public Information System ensures that feedback from the public is received by COA and
Ambition :	By institutionalizing CPA in COA, citizen voice in government oversight systems will be magnified. It is expected that government agencies will take heed and provide the appropriate responses to enhance their own systems and processes. Eventually, the desired outcome would be a better public finance management system that ensures the efficient allocation and expenditure of public funds based on projects that are responsive to the needs and priorities of the people.

Main Objective		Communities in the target municipalities become empowered to achieve improved access to basic services and to participate in more inclusive local planning, budgeting, implementation and disaster risk reduction and management
Brief Description of Commitment		KC-NCDDP aims to capacitate communities to be active partners in local development and to support improvement in local governance. Community capacity building is done through trainings, coaching and providing community volunteers the space to exercise these skills in the Community Empowerment Activity Cycle. In Program implementation, KC-NCDDP adopts barangay assembly decision making, participatory situation analysis, inter-barangay forum for prioritization, community procurement, community finance, community monitoring, grievance redress and accountability reporting as vehicles to promote participation of community members and other citizen groups. On the governance side, continuing capacity building is provided to LGUs, supporting them on local poverty reduction action planning, resource mobilization, and implementation of CDD. Additional program level activities were adopted to further strengthen open governance include geo-tagging, hazard mapping, issuance of DRRM guidelines and Municipal Talakayan (where LGUs and citizens discuss development issues).

Relevance:		Transparency – Involvement of communities in planning, procurement, financial management, grievance redress ensures that the whole community knows and understands resources flowing to their communities, processes in planning and implementation, and output of their initiatives. Engaging civil society in public audit - Accountability reporting and Municipal Talakayan discloses to the public local needs, available resources, identified activities for funding and how these are delivered and how resources were utilized. Main Objective	The Integrated Anti-Red Tape Act (ARTA) Program’s main objective is to improve public service delivery by making government agencies responsive to their customers’ insights. The program also aims to increase transparency, citizen participation, and accountability. By doing so, the Integrated ARTA Program responds to the societal goal, Inclusive Growth and Poverty Reduction. Performance Target by 2017: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>90% of public reports lodged via Contact Center ng Bayan (CCB), acted upon by CSC</li> <li>10% increase in the percentage of offices surveyed under the Report Card Survey (RCS) obtaining the Citizen’s Satisfaction Center Seal of Excellence Award (CSC-SEA) (2015 baseline)</li> </ul>
Brief Description of Commitment	The program aims to improve public service delivery through an effective government feedback and monitoring mechanism.
OGP challenge addressed by the commitment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Improving Public Service Delivery</li> <li>Increasing Public Integrity</li> </ul>
Relevance:	The program promotes transparency and access to information by making sure that frontline government agencies post Citizens Charters informing clients and stakeholders of their service commitments. The program also capitalizes on technology to advance civic participation with the Contact Center ng Bayan which created a

			national public feedback system. Through multiple access modes, a quick action team from the Civil Service Commission collects and responds to public – customer complaints, suggestions, and other feedback, and link these to agencies concerned. Likewise, the program furthers public accountability, access to information, and civic participation through the Report Card Survey. The initiative transforms the feedback process through the active collection of clients’ insights on agencies’ compliance with ARTA and on the quality of service they just received. It introduces a metric-based approach that enables government agencies and the public to easily and objectively track the progress of public service performance. Above all, the RCS grants citizens the power to quantitatively evaluate the performance of government offices, and to an extent, determine if and how much performance incentive a government office gets.
Ambition :			As the program empowers both the public and government agencies, an espousal of a culture of customer service and continuous public service improvement is envisioned. With the program, government agencies will hopefully open up and view the public clients as their partners, and public feedback as constructive and valuable inputs for genuine public service delivery enhancement.

Status quo or problem/issue to be addressed	There exists a continuing challenge for local governments to perform better, and achieve a desirable condition where local governments are able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Sustain the practice of transparency and accountability in the use of public funds;</li> <li>• Prepare for challenges posed by disasters;</li> <li>• Demonstrate sensitivity to the needs of vulnerable and marginalized sectors of society</li> <li>• Encourage investment and employment;</li> <li>• Protect constituents from threats to life and security; and</li> <li>• Safeguard the integrity of the environment</li> </ul>
Main Objective	The objective is to stipulate good governance behavior among local governments specifically in: a) the proper utilization of public funds; b) providing exemplary services to local communities; and c) promoting transparency, accountability and participation.

Brief Description of Commitment	From its pilot run in 2010, the Seal of Good Housekeeping (SGH) promotes transparency and accountability in local operations. In 2012, 84% of provinces, cities and municipalities were conferred with the SGH. This indicates readiness of local governments to take on greater challenges. In 2014, the Department scaled up the Seal of Good Housekeeping into the Seal of Good Local Governance (SGLG), a recognition of good performance of provincial, city and municipal governments, not only on financial housekeeping, but also on other areas that directly benefit the people. These performance areas are: good financial housekeeping, disaster preparedness, social protection for the basic sector, business-friendliness and competitiveness, environmental management, and law and order and public safety
OGP challenge addressed by the commitment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Improving Public Services</li> <li>• Increasing Public Integrity</li> <li>• More Effectively Managing Public Resources</li> </ul>
Relevance:	This commitment is relevant in advancing transparency and citizen participation through the various performance criteria required for eligibility of the SGLG. This seeks to improve government service delivery by fostering openness and participation through compliance with the Full Disclosure Policy and representation of sectors in local decision bodies; and improve governance and capacity of local governments. The Seal is a demonstration that transparency and accountability work for the interest of the citizen, not only in knowing the financial health of the local government and the range of services it provides, but also where citizens are able to draw local information and engage in good service delivery.
Ambition :	Raising the performance benchmarks of LGUs intends to improve aspects of local governance, such as transparency in local plans and budgets and mandatory representation of CSOs in local special bodies.

11. Public and Private Sector High-Level Dialogues

Commitment: Institutionalize public-private consultation and dialogues for sustained and inclusive economic growth
Lead implementing agency	Department of Finance
Name of responsible person from implementing agency	Undersecretary Gil S. Beltran
Title, Department	Undersecretary and Chief Economist, Department of Finance
Email	gbeltran@dof.gov.ph
Phone	523-5671
Other actors involved	National Government	Economic Development Cluster of the Cabinet
	CSOs, private sector, working groups, multilaterals	Makati Business Club, Philippine Business Groups-Joint Foreign Chambers (PBG-JFC)
Status quo or problem/issue to be addressed	There is already an existing structure of collaboration, consultation, and dialogue among the business organizations via the PBG-JFC. In 2013, the PBG-JFC started an annual practice of consulting with each other and reaching out to government to present a unified list of recommendations that the business community believes will lead to inclusive growth. Eventually, the PBG-JFC consultation model became an effective venue in discussing and finding solutions to critical issues of national interest (2015 power reserves gap, Manila port congestion, etc.) The Philippine Congress has actually institutionalized this consultation meeting via twice a year meetings to align legislative priorities. Nevertheless, despite a previous commitment from government to likewise hold quarterly business-executive branch consultations, there have only been two such meetings between the executive branch and the private sector since 2013. This commitment seeks to reinvigorate this consultation and dialogue structure between business and government, and through this achieve the ultimate end-goal of improving public service delivery through constructive engagement between government and the private sector.
Main Objective	To reinvigorate and institutionalize government and business sector collaboration through regular dialogues, and alignment of priorities
Brief Description of Commitment	To establish a joint public-private secretariat and to institutionalize regular and formal meetings between business and government.
OGP challenge addressed by the commitment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Improving public services</li> <li>• Increasing Corporate Accountability</li> </ul>

Relevance:		The commitment is relevant to advance the OGP values of public accountability and civic participation. The establishment of this platform for public-private collaboration and dialogue seeks to guarantee consistent implementation of policies; advocate for needed economic, social, and political reforms; and ensure adherence to commitments made either by government or the private sector. The proposed joint public-private secretariat gives the private sector the necessary space to take and an active and direct part in agenda-setting and policy formulation. Meanwhile, the regular and formal meetings between government and the business community holds government accountable to stakeholders with regard to their development and legislative agenda.
Ambition :		The intended result is for government and the business sector to have a venue for dynamic and continuing collaboration and dialogue, wherein the priorities of both parties are aligned, the private sector takes an active part in policy formulation, both the public and private sectors adhere to their commitments--all of which can ultimately lead to improved public service delivery.

Status quo or problem/issue to be addressed	Public sector corruption will not thrive without the participation of the private sector. Many companies in the Philippines bribe government officials in order to win government contracts or expedite government processes. The Integrity Initiative was launched in December 2010 to help create a culture of integrity within both the public and private sector. After more than four years, over 3,000 corporations, government agencies, and non-profit organizations, have signed an Integrity Pledge where signatories commit themselves and their respective organizations not to engage in bribery and other unethical business practices. However, this remains to be a small proportion of the total number of corporations/organizations in the country. In order to expand this number significantly, government as a whole must come out with specific policy issuances that will encourage organizations to sign the Integrity Pledge, as some government agencies and even government owned corporations (e.g. Department of Public Works and Highways, Department of Education, PEZA, Subic Bay Management Authority, Clark Development Corporation, John Hay Management Corporation and Development Bank of the Philippines) have done.
Main Objective	To institutionalize public and corporate accountability, integrity, and transparency by cultivating through the promotion of common ethical and acceptable integrity standards by the public and private sector.
Brief Description of Commitment	For government to sustain an enabling environment for the signing of the Integrity Pledge through relevant policy issuances and guidelines.

OGP challenge addressed by the commitment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Increasing Public Integrity</li> <li>Increasing Corporate Accountability</li> </ul>
Relevance:	This commitment is relevant in promoting Public Accountability and Civic Participation. This collaborative effort between the government and the business sector aims to: a) provide incentives for good corporate behavior; and b) create a mechanism through which the private sector can seek redress and/or remediation of integrity issues both in the public and private sectors. Government will play a crucial role in recognizing entities that will follow OGP principles and observe the highest ethical standards in dealing with the public sector.
Ambition :	This initiative seeks to significantly expand the number of organizations that sign the Integrity Pledge. These organizations will be required to implement strict integrity management programs themselves. It is hoped that signing the Integrity Pledge will become a requirement in private sector participation in government procurement activities, thereby increasing public sector integrity and safeguarding public resources.

1	From: Ms. Annie Geron, Public Services Labor Independent Confederation (PSLINK) On Recommendation 2 Because of the less positive notion attributed to the word bureaucratic, may i suggest to change " key bureaucratic stakeholders" to key stakeholders from the bureaucracy. On Recommendation 5 Can be clarified whether the PCO is developing the FOI Manual to support its own FOI implementation? It is not possible to have one FOI Manual for the executive branch because the manual has to be contextualized. What can be " must have" provisions in all FOI Manual are those conditions, basic infrastructure or mechnisms stated in the EO. At the moment PSLINK being part of the Right to Know Right Know Coalition is to help selected agencies to craft their FOI Manual by suggesting a basic model FOI manual with suggested process framework and administrative forms based on the FOI EO including essential process like information mapping. Also PSLINK is enrolling some information to test the FOI Manual of agencies like DepEd, DPWH, DOH. On Lessons learned: Again i suggest to change the word bureaucratic with bureaucracy. Also may we add:  Civil society s capacity ti implement its commitment to the co created action plan is contrained by their respective resources. Public resource mobilization through and by the civil society members of the PH OGP SC to help meet their commitments should be considered. I also missed public sector unions specific commitment made in monitoring and maintaining currency of Citizens Charter.	Comments were noted and incorporated in the revised document. Rephrased Recommendation 5 with clarification on the development of an FOI manual and IRR of the EO on FOI. Invited PSLINK in the next exploratory meeting of PH-OGP Secretariat with PCO. Incorporated comment limited resources of CSOs in the Section on Lessons Learned.

3	From: Benfred Tacuyan, NAPC-NUPSC, Representative Comments:  ...a more specific in strategies to the approaches Documentation and feedback → during the entire process of Drafting the 2015-2017 Action Plan which submitted for considerations to lead implementing agencies and non-government but sadly to learned that no public feedback was received seems unbelievable though thus happened (two weeks period for accepting comments August 12, 2016) Observation: CSO Steering Committee members are all NGO's, if we could include the Peoples Organization (PO's) as a member because CSO's is segmented to PO's and NGO's that I would like to be clear on the matter Point of view: These would contribute quality of inputs from processed major agenda of the basic sector if OVC-Sector's Representative would be given an opportunity to sit in the committee. NAPC-OVC is a structured Peoples Organization with on hand brings the Basic Sector Agenda, basically base from community and should be a very good channel of communication and also for dissemination with regards to the challenges of consulting the general public is really	Clarification sent to Mr. Tacuyan: Two POs, lthe Kapisanan ng may Kakayahang Kapansanan, Inc., a PWD organization, and the Youth First Initiative are part of the current Steering Committee structure. 	recommendable. NAPC-OVC Has this bias to public consultation as the prime and most basic in observing the good governance processes... IV. Implementing of National Action Plan Commitments 8. Enhance performance benchmarks for local governance - Seal of Good Local Governance  Remarks: Hopeful that the enhanced guidelines (MC 2016 – 1) would consider the Socialized Housing Program in every locality if they had or such should be included in the scorecard system, in several forums there come out that during the disaster rehabilitation the LGU is not ready to response particular in shelter needs because they do not owned land/property or did not considered to go on land banking. That's why after Typhoon Frank in 2008 which the supposed budget for 500 beneficiaries is intended to Iloilo Province of core shelter program from DSWD but not even one municipality could implement by simply they have no land where to implement the disaster response. Only one scenario has mentioned above but of course there are other matters certainly the availability of land for shelter/housing or for whatever purpose what really matters above all. 9. Improve the ease of doing business - Gameplan on Competitiveness: Ease of Doing Business  Remarks: We will not talk more about Baclaran and Divisoria and what's in it, if not all but certainly most of the Chinese businessman are doing business there trying to evade the tax charges entails. At first upon purchasing, if you won't ask for a receipt then simply they will not mind to issue either. Secondly, when we demand of receipt they will issue only a temporary receipt and third, upon demand of official receipt then they would compel to issue. (Test Buy)  There are even cases of maltreatment of employer of shaming their workers in public, treating as though they're not humans. tsk nakakaawa mga kababayan natin... LESSONS LEARNED: 3. Difficulty in effectively managing broad consultations. It was difficult to manage the broad consultations undertaken in crafting this action plan. While many were consulted, the processes undertaken did not lead to specific amendments or improvements to the OGP Action Plan. The PH-OGP Steering Committee needs to rethink its strategy and mechanisms for consultations in order to make the process more effective.

	Remarks: This concern was also cited in the Constraint and Challenges items, it would be good for the Steering Committee to create its own IEC Core Group to be more focus in the context of social marketing. Scout experts, encourage volunteers and let it be if this already a partnership in a sense. Status quo or problem/issue to be addressed - Commitment seeks to reinvigorate consultation and dialogue structure... 4. Need to engage beyond civil society and reach out to citizen directly. The focus of the Philippines OGP plan has been evolving. The first action plan had focused on initiatives that government had wanted to implement. The process then evolved into one giving more importance to issues that that the civil society were concerned about. This led to the co-creation of the 3rd Action Plan. However, the Plan is still perceived to be less relevant by regular citizens as it tackles issues that are often far from the day to day concerns of the general public – issues such as traffic and poor service delivery. There is a need to evaluate how the general public and their immediate concerns can become part of the OGP process. Remarks: On this, let me just go back to my opinion in the membership of the NAPC – Office of the Vice Chair to the Steering Committee.
4	From: Sixto Donato Macasaet, Caucus of Development NGOs (CODE-NGO) On FDP, there is a need to strengthen the capacity of citizens/ CSOs to use the data from FDP. On BuB, many CSOs view the new “participatory budgeting program” (Assistance to Disadvantaged Municipalities) as a step backward; for example, it now limits “CSO participation” to one CSO chosen by the mayor. Also, the budget for the program was cut from the original P35 Billion to only P19 Billion.	Comments on commitment implementation are noted and shall be forwarded to concerned agencies.
5	From: Dir. Faina Diola, University of the Philippines National College of Public Administration and Governance (UP-NCPAG) <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Some of the focal persons mentioned in the Annexes I think have already been replaced, e.g. Sec. Lacierda</li> <li>2. Transparency and accountability should also be required from other sectors (i.e. civil society / NGOs and corporate sector) especially in the collaborative/ joint programs.</li> <li>3. Capacity building programs are needed for CSOs to understand better and actually take part in public processes. The BuB and government budgeting processes need to be understood better by communities for a meaningful participatory process.</li> </ol>	As the new administration is still in transition, some of the initiatives have yet to send us new focal persons and agency commitment holders which will sustain the initiative. Hopefully, by the end-of-term assessment report, the agencies will be able to update the status and direction of the initiatives moving forward.

	4. Tracking / monitoring processes with sets of indicators can be evolved over time, but these need to be formulated clearly in tracking progress on OGP. 5. Classified information that pertain to national security needs to have some discussion / definition / parameters / guidelines. I think this is what has been a sensitive issue in Open Data. 6. The concept of Open Data and link to Official Statistical Data may need a continuing discussion. For open data to be relevant for development planning, there may be a need to get NEDA and other relevant government agencies into this discussion. For example, how may open data lead to the citation of official annual catch of fish, corn production, maternal mortality, etc.	Other inputs are noted and will be considered in developing the the next action plan and in monitoring activities of the Secretariat. Comments on commitment implementation are noted and shall be forwarded to concerned agencies.
